DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1, 12, 22 and 32 are amended and claims 2-3, 13-14, 23-24 and 33-34 are canceled in the amendment filed on 10/29/2006. Claims 1, 5-12, 16-22, 26-32 and 36-41 are pending in this application.

Information Disclosure Statement

2. The information disclosure statement (IDS) submitted on 07/15/2005 and 10/11/2005. The submission is in compliance with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97. Accordingly, the information disclosure statement is being considered by the examiner.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 1, 12, 22 and 32 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 1, 5-12, 16-22, 26-32 and 36-41 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Hennessey et al. (US. Patent No. 6,360,126 B1).

As to claims 1, 12, 22 and 32, Hennessey teaches a method of responding to a request for data about an enterprise, the method comprising the steps of:

storing a plurality of names for a single entity associated with the enterprise as a first plurality of corresponding concepts in a database of concepts and relationships among concepts, which database describes a plurality of entities associated with the enterprise, wherein each name of the plurality of names is associated with a particular concept of the first plurality of corresponding concepts (each of matter, liquid, ink, pencils, fine paintbrushes, chalk, charcoal, or laser printer are concepts stored in the database) (col. 9, lines 39-48);

designating a first concept of the first plurality of corresponding concepts as a normative concept, wherein the normative concept is used to relate the single entity to other entities of the enterprise (matter is the normative concept) (col. 9, lines 39-48); storing in the database a first relationship of a first relationship type, the first relationship defined for the first concept and an alternative concept of the first plurality of corresponding concepts (matter is in relationship with pencils, fine paintbrushes, chalk, charcoal, or laser printer) (col. 9, lines 39-48);

storing in the database a second relationship of a second relationship type between the first concept and a second concept not among the first plurality of corresponding concepts, wherein the second concept is different than the first concept (relationship between link to liquid and liquid to matter, these two relationship are different between matter with one these pencils, fine paintbrushes, chalk, charcoal, or laser printer) (col. 9, lines 39-48);

receiving a request including data indicating a particular name of the plurality of names (user seeking alternative to a ballpoint pen) (col. 9, lines 40-41), wherein the request does not include data indicating a first name corresponding to the first concept (ballpoint pen is the pacific name for a pen which does not including data corresponding to the matter) (col. 9, lines 39-48), wherein:

the particular name corresponds to a particular alternative concept of the first plurality of corresponding concepts (ballpoint pen is the pacific name in the plurality of pens) (col. 9, lines 39-48); and the database does not include a relationship defined for the second concept and the particular alternative concept (there is not relationship between ink to liquid and liquid to matter and matter with one of these pencils, fine paintbrushes, chalk, charcoal, or laser printer) (col. 9, lines 39-48); and in response to receiving the request, sending a response including content of a file that is associated in the database with the second concept (the alternative retrieval item is one of these pencils, fine paintbrushes, chalk, charcoal, or laser printer which is an alternative to ballpoint pen, is also the second concept) (col. 9, lines 39-48).

As to claims 5, 16, 26 and 36, Hennessey teaches the method recited in claim 1, wherein the plurality of names include at least one of a synonym for the first name corresponding to the first concept (ink and liquid are synonym under matter) (col. 9, lines 39-48), an acronym for the first name, and a translation of the first name into a different language than a language of the first time.

As to claims 6, 17, 27 and 37, Hennessey teach the method recited in claim 1, wherein the first relationship include an attribute indicating the alternative concept is one of a synonym for the first concept (pencils, fine paintbrushes, chalk, charcoal, or laser printer are synonym under matter) (col. 9, lines 39-48), an acronym for the first concept, and a translation into different language than a language of the first name corresponding to the first concept.

As to claims 7, 8, 28 and 38, Hennessey teaches the method recited in claim 5, wherein the plurality of names includes the synonym for the first name, and wherein the synonym for the first name includes a misspelling of the first name (pencils, fine paintbrushes, chalk, charcoal, or laser printer are synonym under matter, if the matter is misspelled then these pencils, fine paintbrushes, chalk, charcoal, or laser printer are retrieved by on the relationship of synonym or children) (col. 9, lines 39-48).

As to claim 8, Hennessey teaches the method recited in claim 5, wherein the plurality of names includes the synonym for the first name; and wherein the synonym for the first name comprise an acronym of the concept (ink is different or an acronym with pencils, fine paintbrushes, chalk, charcoal, or laser printer are synonym under matter) (col. 9, lines 39-48) or a translation into different language than a language of the first name corresponding to the first concept.

As to claims 9, 19, 29 and 39, Hennessey teaches further comprising the step of adding a name to the plurality of names based on the data included in the request (col. 6, lines 9-21).

As to claims 10, 20, 30 and 40, Hennessey teaches the method of claim 1, wherein the entities include at least one of a set of products of the enterprise, a set of services of the enterprise and a set of activities of the enterprise (pencils, fine paintbrushes, chalk, charcoal, or laser printer is one of the plurality of enterprise products) (col. 9, lines 39-48).

As to claims 11, 21, 31 and 41, Hennessey teaches the method of claim 10, wherein the entities include the set of activities of the of the enterprises; and wherein the set of activities of the enterprise include at least one of administration, research, marketing (advertising) (col. 1, lines 35-37), joint ventures and documentation.

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of
